THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

DECEMBER is the busiest, most exciting month of the whole year. Plan the festivities that are to take place early so that you can really enjoy them when the time arrives. FIESTA FOR XMAS SEASON

Announcement of Program For Holiday Affair Sunday Afternoon, Dec. 12

Adding to the events that mark the pre-Christmas season none is attracting more interest just now than the Fiesta to be given on Sunday, the 12, at the local S. J. A. Gym, to which the public is heartily invited to participate.

An interesting and descriptive announcement comes from the management in charge of the event and follows:

Mothers and fathers be sure and bring your children to the Christmas Fiesta at St. Joseph Gymnasium Sunday, December 12, 1937, and let them enjoy the thrill of their lives. Dear old Santa will be there to greet the little ones. You were children once and if you will visualize those happy days before Christmas, when you anticipated Santa's visit on Christmas, and how you were thrilled when you saw his picture in the paper and perhaps your parents took you to the department store and there you saw Santa in person. Wasn't that a thrill? Give your children that thrill by bringing them to the Fiesta and let them meet Santa in person.

There will be plenty of amusement for young and old. Santa will have his home there and his big Christmas tree. Children will sing Christmas carols—fancy dancing. The "Birth of Christ" will be presented in pantomime, and numerous other attractions. Come to the Fiesta and again live those happy days of your childhood.

The "Gift Shop" at the Fiesta will have plenty of fancy work, aprons, luncheon sets and what-not, the "Turkey Store" will have plenty of turkeys, chickens, fruit cake, groceries, etc. The "Candy Shop" will be filled with home-made and fancy candy and Christmas boxes. The "Restaurant and Soft Drink Booths" will have sandwiches of all kinds and coffee and soft drinks and good things to eat. You are invited to eat your supper there that night—the price will be reasonable. Admission at the door will be adults 25c and children 10c, but if you purchase tickets now you will get 5c cash coupons on the adults ticket and one 5c cash coupon on the children's tickets. These coupons will be accepted as cash on chances or purchases at the Fiesta. The sale of these tickets stop Saturday, December 11.

The Gulf Theater at Waveland scored quite a hit Sunday and Monday nights on the occasion of presentation of the film, Life of Louis Pasteur, featuring the artist extraordinary, Paul Muni, whose characterization of Pasteur and more recently of Zola, exceeds all previous triumphs. It was an outstanding film, educational and informative and it was well that may viewed the production and benefited by the satisfaction to be gained therefrom. Manager Ed Ortle is enterprising and solicitous of the public. To have missed Pasteur is a loss to the intelligent individual.

BEACH VILLA OWNED BY CARL MARSHALL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Conflagration of Unknown Origin Makes Clean Sweep of Unoccupied Dwelling.

Fire discovered at about 2:30 o'clock Thursday (Thanksgiving) morning, totally destroyed the one-story frame dwelling owned by Carl Marshall, originally built years ago by W. J. Harrison as a home for his own occupancy, on the North Beach.

The building was unoccupied at the time and origin of the fire is unknown, despite various theories advanced, (including tramps occupying vacant property overnight, defective wiring, etc.

Bay St. Louis fire department responded promptly and kept the fire within its immediate course, and by heroic work saved the dwelling adjoining of Mr. A. C. Enxios: It was Miss Miller (Mrs. Enxios' sister) who turned in the alarm to the local telephone exchange. The family is extremely grateful for the prompt manner in which the telephone operator gave the alarm, the promptness and effectiveness of the city fire department and neighbors and others from over town who began moving out household effects.

Mr. Marshall's place was totally destroyed, partially covered by insurance. The building was valued at $10,000 plus furniture and other belongings.

Baton Rouge Drive To End Rats Finds Many Pied Pipers.

Since Baton Rouge authorities decided to get rid of its rats, a number of volunteers have stepped forward with suggestions, per press report from that city.

Dr. T. Jeff McHugh, city health officer, said he has received a number of letters and one telegram offering services "for a single remuneration."

A Vicksburg, Miss., lawyer suggested the rats be fed so they will get "sick and sleepy" and eat each other and "finally become extinct." One application for the job of pied piper, from Vacherie, La., said: "Until a few years ago I was employed by a company dealing direct with the public and can approach people in a business manner."

Another said: "x x x Have worked the past 16 months in the rat extermination department of the New Orleans board of health. Would consider your offer, if any reasonable. I have been married, Two children. Age 45, weight 178. I have had practical experience."

A telegraphed application from Lafayette said the applicant had 20 years experience in rat extermination.

Dr. McHugh said he wanted a poison for extermination of the rats, suspected of transmitting typhus fever virus, rather than human exterminators.

PROMINENT VISITORS

Prominent visitors to Bay St. Louis during the week-end included Dr. W. S. Leathel dean Medical School, Vanderbilt University, Tenn.; Dr. John A. Terrell, director United States, South and Central American Rockefeller Foundation, New York; Dr. Felix J. Underwood, president Mississippi State Board of Health, Jackson, attending the Southern Medical Convention at New Orleans. While here they were guests of Dr. C. M. Shipp and enjoyed visiting the interior waters and fishing.

Sunday night the party were among guests at a duck dinner given by Dr. Shipp and Mr. Carl Marshall, at the Markham Hotel, Gulfport. The persons included Mrs. Terrell and John A. Jr., New York.

MISS RISSIE MILLER

Rissie Miller, 18-year-old "Miss New Orleans of 1937" will participate in the "Radio Queen" contest at Miami, Fla., and Havana, Cuba, sponsored by the International Radio club, with major networks co-operating in an effort to find a "new radio star." She will leave December 2.

The foregoing from a New Orleans paper is interesting to local readers. Miss Miller is a frequent visitor to Bay St. Louis and has won favor and tremendous applause at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club on occasion of formal appearance. Mr. C. A. Breath, proprietor of the beautiful Bay St. Louis Nite Club, popularly acclaimed, has sponsored Miss Miller's appearance here and thus supplied means of additional entertainment. The hope is expressed that Miss Miller will not only be the "Miss New Orleans of 1937" but will win additional laurels that will proclaim her the "new radio star."

Scharff's Quality Food Store to Give Away Valuable Toys

Scharff's Quality Store corner Main and Touline streets, is giving away beautiful and valuable toys appropriate for Christmas.

The buyer receives a cash card, when purchased representing paid purchases to amount of $5.00. This card, thus punched, without any additional money will entitle the holder to any toy of his or her own selection. Two cards better or more toys, and so on.

The toys include handsome dolls, mechanical toys, etc. All handsome and worthwhile, all new and modern. Different toys have different values and the number of required cards depends on the value of selection.

However, one card entitles the holder to many selections. The plan is proving tremendously popular. As it is unusual. Absolutely free—no additional pay with punched cards.

In this connection Mr. Scharff characterizes a long-established policy and that is all goods sold with a guarantee. The store is just what the name of Quality Store implies. Quality at current low prices. And a guarantee carries with every purchase.

BAY CITY CHARITY ASSOCIATION COVERS WIDE RANGE OF WORK.

Recent Editorial in Echo Brought Forth Assistance To St. Margaret's Daughters.

A recent editorial in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo on the subject of local organizations and featuring the splendid work of St. Margaret's Daughters in aiding children, the poor and the sick and otherwise distressed has attracted considerable attention from the charitably-inclined, and as result voluntary contributions have amounted to $25.00.

This is a splendid cause inasmuch it reaches in direct manner the more needy and suffering. The organization is non-sectarian and regards neither, sex, creed nor color.

On the eve of the Christ-like holidays this is a cause one may well succor with an unlimited degree of satisfaction.

For Thanksgiving St. Margaret's Daughters distributed unstintingly some dozen baskets to the families in dire need of food and supplies. Sensibly and correctly, the baskets were not filled with a turkey, cranberry and great bouquet of celery bunch, fruit cake, nuts and sweets along with the usual decoration gusto and manner of presentation but with an abundant supply of substantial food supplies, excellent in quality and bountiful in supply. The plan was not announced.

The reason is obvious. Too many applicants and the organization is well acquainted with the identity and number of those in dire need. Mrs. G. Y. Blaize (wife of the city's mayor) is an active worker in the cause and, with her associates, accomplishes much. Voluntary assistance may be addressed to her either by telephone or in person.

Because of technicalities many of the more needy and sick are deprived of government relief. It may be well to state that the organization also in many cases pays for medicines for charity cases at the local hospital.

BILOXI MAYOR SPEAKS

Addresses Bay St. Louis Business Men and Tells Of Coast Industry.

Mayor Louis Braun of Biloxi was the guest speaker at the Rotary meeting held Wednesday at Hotel Reed. He was introduced by President Norton Haas as a leading citizen of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and a constant booster for this section.

The Mayor discussed the recent outstanding developments in his city and touched upon present plans for the future, including the scheduled motorcade from Biloxi to Chicago.

In discussing the part played in the development of Biloxi by the city government, the Mayor brought out their stand in regard to taxation. He stated that they had made every effort possible to return to the tax rolls all of the delinquent tax property, and added that their efforts were very successful. He said that every consideration and courtesy at their command was extended to the citizens in order to relieve the deplorable conditions of tax collections.

The Mayor discussed several recent improvements made by the city, most of which was accomplished through the assistance of the W. P. A. He told of the constant fight being made to keep the "front yard" of their city clean and beautiful. He discussed at length the great possibility of the Mississippi Gulf Coast as a tourist center, and predicted that this section would in the near future attract over 100,000 tourists annually. He related the many advantages and opportunities presented here as an attraction. He said that completion of the all paved route to the Coast from Chicago would aid the coast materially toward this goal. This was the reason that he considered the proposed motorcade to the "windy city" as appropriate and timely in view of the completion of this great highway.

In conclusion the speaker reviewed the activity of the great packing industries in Biloxi, stating that his city led the United States in the packing of shrimp and oysters.

OPEN AND CLOSED SEASON FOR GAME IN MISSISSIPPI

Under the season on ducks, geese and brant, which opened November 27 to run until December 26, the game limit is 10 ducks and 5 geese or brant.

WAR !!! HAS BEEN DECLARED AGAINST "MARIHUANA"

Picture to be Shown at Gulf Theater Tuesday and Wed., Dec. 7-8.

Seventy percent of all drug addicts acquire the habit before they are of legal age, according to one of the well known authorities of the United States Government.

The vicious marihuana-smoking evil thrusts up its ugly serpent-like head, irrespective of the social position of its victim, has been fought by our government for many years. According to an article on this subject, which appeared recently in the Fort Worth Press, Texas, was the first state to legislate against this banned narcotic.

Dr. Lee Rice of San Antonio, speaking before the American Medical Association recently, stated that "the use of Marihuana cigarettes is spreading among high school and university students, endangering their health and pre-disposing them to crimes of violence."

Only recently a concerted drive against the use of marihuana cigarettes has been put into effect by both federal and state governments and it is believed by the authorities in charge that this frightfully devastating traffic can be controlled.

The true story of this terrible scourge and the exotic behavior of addicts while under its sinister influence together with the effects on their minds and bodies is frankly portrayed in the motion picture "Marihuana" at the Gulf Theater, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 7-8. No children will be admitted.

This picture with its intensive background of fact founded on lab. orious research strikes squarely and definitely at the sinister results that come from the early use of marihuana cigarettes by unsuspecting or thrill seeking boys and girls.

a hospital in San Francisco suffering from a broken hip and other injuries sustained in a fall.

—Miss L. C. Del Bondio, accompanied by Miss Marie E. Bertrand, Miss Hazel Abley and Miss Jane Lang, returned home Saturday from a week's stay at St. Martinsville, in the heart of the Evangeline country where they were house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Cutler, of that section. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler, who are well known in the Bay-Pass section of the Coast, who returned to their town home in St. Martinsville last year, have completed the construction of a home on their plantation out of town and the occasion celebration was also that of housewarming.

CHRISTMAS FIESTA.

EVERY community of any size or importance, more or less, has its various Christmas holiday entertainments, benefits and such enterprise that go to make local life and contribute to the general holiday atmosphere of the season.

Among other events in Bay St. Louis this year outstanding and not only appealing in the benefit sense but to the significance of delightful interest is the announced "Christmas Fiesta" for Sunday afternoon, December 12, at St. Joseph Gymnasium.

From the announcement carried in our news column this week of the anticipated affair one cannot but become interested. There will be so much to see, to engross one's attention; the novelty of such event will excite and thrill the very senses, particularly at this time of the year when we, day by day, become more imbued with all things that appertain to Christmas and are incidental thereto.

It might be well to take one's self out of that regular Sunday afternoon humdrum—to get away from the things we seem to have become, slave-like, creatures of habit; to break loose the chain of self-set convention and attend this fiesta. To some of us, staid, conservative and groovy type, it might be well for one day, at least, to break away from the fetters of Sunday afternoon inertia and with spirit of daring and adventure hie ourselves over to the convent and academy premises, meet the folks of our own home town, enjoy this contact; mingle freely, visit the various enterprise of the fiesta and dressed in best bib and tucker join the ranks.

It is Christmas time. The spirit of the season is calling. Give way to better feeling; yield not to the little imps of "Stay-Away," "Stick Home" and "Sour Puss."

RAILROADS AND NEWSPAPERS.

THE railroad industry has applied for permission to raise freight rates 15 per cent, because its revenues are not sufficient in these days of higher costs and wages to pay expenses and leave an adequate amount over for improvement and expansion.

In asking this permission, the railroads want to do only what most unregulated businesses have already done. For example, newspapers all over the country have been increasing their single copy price in some cases their monthly or annual subscription prices. Increased production costs make this necessary.

The fact is newspapers have no more "complimentary subscriptions," no free copies. The Echo is of that number. Free subscriptions and free copies are a thing of the past. Cost of production is more than double over that of a few years back.

The railroads are in the same position as these papers. Everything the lines use costs more than it did a year or two ago, even as a newspaper's main source of expense, newsprint, costs more than it did. And, like the newspapers, the railroads' only source of operating income is from the sale of their services—in one case, transportation; in the other, advertising and news.

Whenever a regulated industry asks permission for rate increases, the average human reaction is to protest at once, and hope that it will be denied. But a railroad isn't any different than a newspaper or a real estate agency or a grocery store or a specialty shop. It is governed by the same economic laws. And when outgo exceeds income, it must raise its prices or go bankrupt.

CITY AND COUNTRY CHRISTMAS TRADE.

CHRISTMAS is only three weeks off and it might be well as it necessarily will be, to become holiday-conscious and prepare for the season, regardless of inclination or condition. It is reported country merchants and others in the smaller cities display their holiday wares too late to set the holiday spirit. While stores of large cities have long ago decorated their stores in lavish and rich trimmings appropriate to the season and displayed varied and large stocks, backed by heavy newspaper advertising not waiting for the purchaser to come to the store but going out to the customer.

Perhaps, this is one of the potential reasons why so much Christmas shopping is lost to the merchant of the town while city stores capture the gravy.

MODERN 3 RS.

Fred Sullens of the Jackson News says the three educational—reading, writin', 'rithmetic are succeeded by rah, rah, rah. Seemingly too true to be funny.

Alabama plays California in the Rosebowl at Pasadena, and L. S. U. plays Santa Clara (Calif.) in the Sugarbowl at New Orleans New Year's Day. Plenty of real football to start off the new twelve-month cycle.

Numerous subscriptions are due the Sea Coast Echo and many statements are sent out month after month with scant reply. On the other hand many pay their subscriptions promptly each year and write letters of commendation. Are you in the latter class?

BANKS AND CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB.

BAY ST. LOUIS banks and others over the country the past few days, in anticipation of the holidays have paid out sums of money to individuals who during the early part of the year joined the well-known and popular Christmas savings club.

The amounts, as a whole, paid out in community aggregates to more than the average mind considers and reflects thrift that is commendable. Christmas Clubs have been in vogue for some years and grown tremendously popular. Such savings are dedicated to various purposes and uses—means of building a permanent savings account, to accumulate funds through the year to pay taxes, life insurance policies and, as many do, to have money for Christmas time.

People who save money in this wise do not throw away such monies by dint and persistence during the long year they have become versed to the value of money, they know what it represents and what to do best with. Savings Clubs teach a lasting lesson and serve to various purposes.

That such clubs pay the banks is erroneous. On the contrary. The banks pay a small interest thus paying the individual to save. In addition the bank carries an added overhead of book-keeping and caring for the money of others. It is a great service the banks render the public for which in return it receives nothing but the satisfaction that it serves the community and its people.

Banks do so much for the locality in which they are located. They carry a tremendous responsibility, a great trust and preponderant liability all of which they are willing and cheerfully discharge as an obligation to service. They are builders of communities, individuals and help to develop a high morale. We owe the banks much. We cannot repay them for what they do. The small stipend paid is only a means that enables the various transactions to be carried from day to day.

THE COUNTRY PRESS ON THE SUPREME COURT ISSUE.

AT the end of the first session of the current Congress, it was believed that the Supreme Court issue would again be introduced at the next session.

Since that time, the feeling has grown that, due to the size and influence of Congressional opposition, the issue is dead, and may not see the light of day again.

If the country press of the nation accurately reflects the temper of the American people, the issue is dead indeed.

The Industrial News Review recently sent a questionnaire to 12,585 country papers asking four direct, non-leading questions concerning possible Court changes. More than 2,300 papers replied. Proposed legislation that would permit the President to appoint additional justices, was opposed by 90.4 per cent; 71.6 per cent were opposed to the proposal that a two-thirds vote of the Court be required to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional; 72 per cent were opposed to any bill forcing justices to retire at an age fixed by law. And 88.3 per cent were opposed to a constitutional amendment limiting the authority of the court over acts of Congress.

There was a remarkable consistency in the views of editors in far separated states, showing sentiment solidified against court changes, irrespective of sectional politics and feelings. The completed questionnaires, together with a multitude of supplemental notes and letters, indicate that these editors—as did the Congressional majority when the Court bill was voted on—feel that the Supreme Court is the bulwark of our liberties and our first line of defense against dictatorship and that it would be a national catastrophe to tamper with it.

The country press is not swayed by momentary enthusiasms, or political hysteria. It looks at issues in the light of their effect on the fundamentals of government. It thinks them out. And no better example of this fact could be found than in the editors' reply to the Industrial News Reviews' Court questionnaire.

BURYING THE HATCHET?

THE President's announcement to the effect that the government is considering burying the hatchet it has been using to scalp the electric utility industry, and his calling of a conference with utility leaders, is a step that should have been taken long ago. Everyone will hope that peace is in sight, and that this "truce" doesn't turn out to be a tempest in a teapot, as did the series of conferences held a year ago concerning the TVA and the private companies in the Southeast, which accomplished exactly nothing.

The utilities are more than $2,000,000,000 behind in construction, based on what their expenditures would have been had they not been subject to continual political strafing. This year utility spending for capital investment will be substantially larger than in any of the last few years, simply because increasing public demand for power makes plant expansion necessary—but, even so, it will be less than half of the billion dollars that utility experts believe the industry would normally spend annually.

It is rumored that under the new federal plan, as yet not officially announced, utilities will be protected in their territories from subsidized government competition, and that they will be subjected to less attack.

A program of fair dealing by government would assure the maximum betterment of utility service, and would release a vast reservoir of spending power that has been unnecessarily dammed up by ruthless politics.

WHAT NEXT?

Editorial Contributed to The Sea Coast Echo by Captain Jack Lloyd, the Globetrotter.

AS most of the people realize the fact in America today, that the war clouds hang heavier over Europe and the Orient than they have since the days of the past World War... the tragic question on the tongues of the people of every walk in life, from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico... is... What Next?

Diplomats that I have met in various sections of the country agree war is inevitable. Conditions of the world almost demand it, for, as Civilization marches on, we find that the greatest European countries, that is those that have no natural resources, are trying to "eat up their brothers," Italy has taken Ethiopia... at a very stiff price... Spain has been split by two factions that are being backed by the Nazis and Facists, Russia and England are looking from the "side lines" taking in the situation, but like a trustful "watch dog" ready to jump at any minute.

While in Chicago, several of the leading financiers of the country told me that... I have never seen anything... and that in "one minute" the explosion may take place that will shake the entire world, for "blood thirsty Japan"... Italy

Germany... are ready to declare themselves... even at the cost of millions of people and men... they need room for expansion... and the United States, England and Russia with France are the only countries that have additional people today, and natural resources developed. With an unrest that would put Japan, with conquered China, Germany, Italy, unsettled India, and the majority of the races of Mongolian blood, together with the Balkan states and independent European countries it would mean the calling of the greatest number of troops into action that this civilization has ever seen.

Several months ago I wrote an article for the Leader, headed... Scrap Iron On Parade. In that article I told of the great movement of scrap iron to the port cities of the Nation, how it was a life saver to many small farmers and people for a livelihood. Then I also told you that perhaps Japan would try and give us some of it back... free gratis... within a few years... all polished to "boot"... in the form of shrapnel.

For 18 years, the Oriental countries purchased our scrap iron, but the largest flurry of the iron market came in the past 5 years. Scrap iron soared to unknown peace time prices, and financiers and maritime checkers figured that Japan had bought better than 100 million tons of scrap iron

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

YES, CHARITY SHOULD BEGIN AT HOME.

(West Point Daily Leader)

THE Bay St. Louis Echo is right when it says: While calls over the country are sent out for aid to the poor and needy, the forgotten child, and the thousand and one causes, it might be well to look around at home, in our very midst and consider appeals and causes that are crying for succor.

One need not go very far. There is room for missionary work at home. Families in want, undernourished and scantily clothed children are not hidden away.

Almost every day citizens of West Point are asked to contribute toward the support of some charity, in another city, or even in another State.

In most instances, the cause is worthy, and those who ask for donations are sincere in their belief that the need is pressing.

We have in mind especially the workers for the Salvation Army, which maintains a post in a neighboring city. The Salvation Army is a mighty force in the cause of Christianity. It is a great agency for the alleviation of human suffering. But the Salvation Army doesn't minister to the poor and needy in West Point—and we believe that the unfortunates here at home are our first obligation.

Before we contribute to worthy causes in other communities, we should first satisfy ourselves that we have discharged our obligations toward our own community.

HERE IS A DIETARY NOTE OF REAL INTEREST.

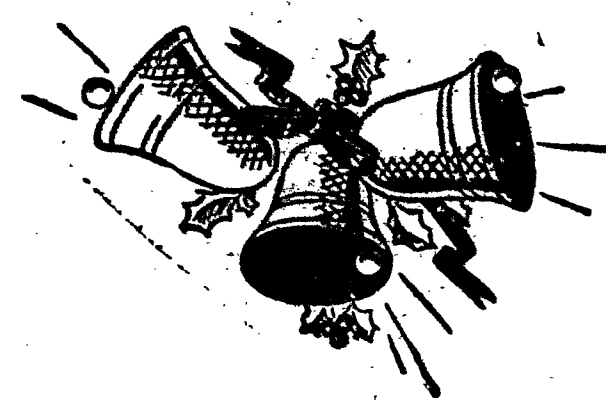

(Jackson Clarion-Ledger)

DECIDEDLY timely we call the speech of Dr. James A. Tobey of New York before the New Jersey Dietetic Association. He said that foods often regarded as fattening, such as bread, milk, rolls, cream, butter, ice cream, etc., do not contribute to obesity when they are part of a well-balanced diet.

We have long felt that this distressing business of dieting was overrated and overdone. What the world needs are more gentlemen of the breadth and beam and vision of Jim Brady and Boies Penrose in their prime. These were men who filled a place of magnificent proportions at the dinner table; men to whom 60 oysters on the half-shell were merely a foretaste of better things to come. We need meals that are put together on an assembly line basis, and at a cost somewhere short of the national deficit. It has always been our conviction that wars were mostly started by men with a lean and hungry look, because it does not seem that strife and a steak smothered with mushrooms go together.

So in the interest of bigger and better waistslines and the culinary joys that go with them we propose a slight toast to any and all dietitians who convey the comforting assurance that Providence devised food for consumption rather than avoidance. Down with diets and up with the waistline. A dash of turkey, please, and don't spare the mashed potatoes.

from the Western Hemisphere alone. Japan was also a heavy buyer of nitrates... from Chile. She bought enough nitrates to farm her country for the next 500 years. Today these nitrates are being made into powder and gun cotton. Japan bought our cotton for years, millions of bales and she stored it away... her surplus... today mixed with the nitrates and the scrap iron... she stands out like a beast, and defies the world. Yes Japan, you are prepared but perhaps after you think awhile, it will pay you well to keep on your side of the fence... for Russia has not forgotten the Russian and Japanese war... and other countries have noticed, that just like the slogan that Germany built up before the World War... "Made in Germany" was a curse to the world. So is the slogan stamped on more than 40 per cent of the goods bought in America today, and stamped... "Made in Japan"... it is sad to say... but more than 90 per cent of our small American flags are made in Japan, and the larger per cent of our light globes, and other cheap trinkets, put on the American market, bought by American people with American gold and silver, to only help the cause of the "Monster" in getting ready to jump on us. The Southern people cry... what about our cotton... well, the small farmer is being "frozen out" today by the "big shots" who see the war and there being no foreign market to amount to anything today, are buying this cotton today, then within a few months... this very cotton will be selling for 3 or 4 times as much as it is quoted today... but its use will not be for cloth... or for civilian clothing. It will be used for making gun cotton and clothing for the soldiers that will be called, while ton after ton of it will be used as bandages for the wounded and suffering. The farmer today gets nothing for his crop... his boys are all trained for the coming war... "if they went to a C. C. C." camp, the only ones that will benefit will again be the money mongers that have always caused war... and slogans of commerce.

All through this country the "big shots" are getting ready for the coming war. Factories that have not turned a wheel since the days of the Armistice of the World War are today re-conditioning their plants. Secretly train loads of ores are moving through this section to St. Louis and Chicago. Ammunition factories are humming, piles of ingots... of iron and steel line the railroad yards of "big steel"... the Army is buying thousands of trucks and caterpillars... war ships being built, giant air bombers that can destroy a city with their deadly shells. Death Rays have been tried out, and while the innocent youngsters, who will be the first ones to be called to fight this war, turn to their history books, and read about their great commerce of the oceans... the developments of industries... the growth of civilization... the books don't tell these youths... that one little mineral... gold... one black liquid... oil... and one little commercial line... "made in Japan"... about to take them mercilessly against certain death, maybe in the Tropics, maybe in the frozen North, or maybe up in the air... why? what next?... just because man has forgotten God... and has joined in the parade of the gluttony of Lust.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

SONJA HENIE's latest picture, "Happy Ending," is the first of her screen vehicles to have her native Norway as the scene of the story. American fliers land by mistake in a small Norwegian village where Sonja lives with her father, Jean Hersholt. Don Ameche is the leading man.

Miss Henie, by the way, came fifth in a poll conducted by an Idaho newspaper to determine the famous Scandinavians to be honored in the hall of fame in the New York World's Fair. Nansen, Amundsen, Bjornsen and Ibsen preceded Miss Henie on the list. Leif Erickson came fifteenth.

When Fred Astaire comes back to Hollywood after a two-months' vacation, he will again be teamed with Ginger Rogers in "Change Partners." Irving Berlin is writing the music.

SENATOR BILBO WOULD HAVE GOVERNOR BUY BRIDGE AT VICKSBURG

Says Free Toll Span Would Accelerate Travel to And Fro—Barrier to Traffic Flow.

A press special from Washington Monday says that with the intention of making the bridge over the Mississippi river at Vicksburg toll-free, Senator Theodore G. Bilbo today introduced a bill that would authorize the construction of a bridge to be acquired by the state by purchase. Half of the cost would be deducted from federal aid road funds allotted to Mississippi and Louisiana. The plan is contingent upon the formal consent of the highway commission of the two states.

The Vicksburg bridge Senator Bilbo states, is the only toll bridge on the longest continuous highway in the United States, No. 80. The toll acts as an artificial barrier to the flow of traffic between Louisiana and Mississippi and acts as a particular hardship to the residents of nearby areas who would make frequent use of the bridge in the course of their regular activities were it not for the toll he says. The toll, Senator Bilbo declares, prevents many tourists from crossing the river to visit the national cemetery and one of the most widely known battlefields in the United States.

REPUBLIC PICTURES PRESENTS "HEARTS IN BONDAGE" AT GULF

Theater — Battle of the "Ironclads" To Be Shown Thursday and Friday, Dec. 2 and 3.

Over three-quarters of a century has passed since the Civil War of our country, but the scar of that terrible conflict when brother fought against brother, friend against friend and sweethearts were lost in the turbulent struggle, cannot be healed with the passing of the years.

As horrible as the war between the states might have been, nevertheless it brought about great changes in the trade and commerce of the world, for it not only demonstrated the superiority of the ironclad over wooden vessels, but paved the way for bigger and better things on the water.

The battle of the ironclads was not only one of the most spectacular naval battles ever fought; it began the era of iron ships.

Conceiving the idea that there was a possible way to break the blockade of the southern ports, a wooden vessel, namely the Merrimac and the Monitor, were built and fought the battle of the ironclads on March 9, 1862, when the north answered the challenge with the Monitor. A passing remark was made that it looked like "A Yankee cheese box on a raft." So it did, and so effective was the eleven inch shells used by the cheese box, that after many hours of weary warfare, the Merrimac was forced to withdraw, thereby leaving the blockade intact.

The story also tells in vivid terms of two young lovers who were forced to part because of the war. But such a trifling thing as that was not to stay their love. "Fire and water, sleet or snow, nothing can cure the course of true love."

Outstanding players who have excellent roles are James Dunn and Mae Clarke as the romantic team, David Manners and Charlotte Henry, Henry B. Watterl, Fritz Leiber, George Irving, Irving Pichel.

The picture is directed by Lew Arco and staged with marvelous fighting scenes, never has such an opportunity been given the public as in "Hearts in Bondage."

JOAN CRAWFORD SCORES IN "THE BRIDE WORE RED"

As A Modern Cinderella.—To Be At A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday.

Once again the screen improves on an outstanding stage hit, "The Bride Wore Red," which will be shown at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, December 5-6.

Remembered, of course, as a rich human experience depicted on the stage, the story has gained in celluloid. Joan Crawford unquestionably was a happy choice for the starring role and she has two excellent leading men in Franchot Tone and Robert Young. The picture was produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and nothing has been overlooked on the score of perfection of detail in all departments.

The Cinderella story of a poor beautiful girl who acquired luxury for a fleeting time and then became rich in love, has been directed with the delicate feminine influence of Dorothy Arzner, Hollywood's only woman director. The company went up into the High Sierras for scenes to duplicate those of the Austrian Tyrol in Molnar's original.

You know at once that the movies do better with the Sierras than any stage technician could possibly hope to do with canvas scenery. It is an exquisite photography and the sound effects are astonishingly lovely with the music of mountain birds at dawn, the rollicking song of a tumbling stream and the symphony of wind in the trees.

"The Bride Wore Red" was originally Molnar's "The Girl From Triest." Like all of Molnar's characters, the people are down-to-earth and real. The swift-moving action takes place during four weeks. In those weeks, through the whim of a philosophical nobleman, Anni is sent to a fashionable mountain resort where she becomes a society belle. Forced to choose between the humble Giulio, played by Tone, and the wealthy Rudolph, portrayed by Young, Anni faces a problem that determines the future course of her life. Anni's decision and her constant fear of discovery make for romance, suspense and humor.

Supervisors from the evidence, both oral and documentary, offered in support of said application that the circumstances alleged in said petition as grounds for relief, are true and that the property described in the petition is owned and occupied by the petitioner as a homestead.

And the Board being fully satisfied that the petitioner had to have said homestead exemption, as here provided, and that the Board should so order:

It is therefore ordered by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, that the petitioner, Victoria Monti, be and she is hereby granted the homestead exemption on the land set out in her petition, being a total reduction in assessment of State taxes only of $575.00 for the year 1937.

It is further ordered, that the Clerk of this Board certify two copies of this order to the State Tax Commission, for its approval or disapproval, and, if the foregoing order change the original assessment roll in his office, and the Sheriff and Tax Collector of this County is hereby authorized and directed to change the copy in his possession to conform with the provisions of this order. And the Sheriff and Tax Collector shall be properly credited with the reduction (if any) herein made.

This day came on for hearing and consideration by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, petition of Robert L. Camors for a homestead exemption of real property, assessed to the said petitioner as the owner thereof, at the page and line of said 1936-1937 real roll as shown in said petition, being page 111, line 25, the said homestead exemption being asked on the ground that the land, as described in the petition is owned and occupied by the petitioner as a homestead.

Larger Pines Bring More If Sold As Sawlogs.

Before deciding to sell a stand of pines for pulpwood it is a good plan to find out if this is the most profitable way to dispose of them, suggests J. B. Toler, extension forester at Mississippi State College. Local market conditions will determine the best outlet, he says, but in general it pays to cut the larger trees for sawlogs, while the smaller trees may be thinned and sold for pulpwood. A woodland may contain pole or piling timber which is worth even more than sawlogs. Holding immature timber for more years of growth will help materially in many cases to increase the net returns, as a 12-inch tree is worth twice as much as a 10-inch tree on a saw-timber basis. The Forest Service explains that a 16-inch tree will return only 51 cents if it is sold as pulpwood at a dollar per cord. If it is sold as saw-timber stumpage at $3 per thousand board feet the tree will bring 68 cents. The tree will return $1.13 if sold at the rate of $5 per thousand board feet stumpage.
